Brandy Morris Receives 2026 Caring Hands Award

There are many special aspects of our community, but none are more so than the people that live and work here. One person that exemplifies the values and heart of Episcopal Church Home is Brandy Morris. ECH is proud to announce that Brandy was named the 2026 Caring Hands Award winner by LeadingAge Kentucky. She was honored at the association's conference in Louisville in late September.

The Caring Hands Award recognizes an individual whose compassionate, hands-on care makes a meaningful difference in the lives of older adults. That description reflects what residents and colleagues see from Brandy every day. Her commitment to exceptional, person-centered care is long-standing, and Brandy has been part of the ECH family for 19 years.

Brandy serves as a Versatile Worker, and her supervisor, Cyndi Kerton, shared that she brings so much compassion and dedication to the role. “Brandy has a special way of making our residents feel loved and cared for,” Cyndi said. “She treats each resident like family, going above and beyond to make sure they feel comfortable and supported.”

Her kindness and caring nature do not go unnoticed. Residents and their families appreciate the love and care she provides. Furthermore, Brandy maintains positive, supportive relationships with her coworkers as well. “Brandy is an example of what it means to provide compassionate, person-centered care,” Cyndi added. “We are grateful to have Brandy as part of our team.”

In addition to being honored at the LeadingAge Kentucky conference, our team and several of Brandy’s family members gathered at ECH to celebrate her achievement and thank her for nearly two decades of dedicated service. While Brandy is modest and may downplay her role, she exemplifies what a model caregiver should be. Her caring spirit and dedication to those around her make her truly deserving of the 2026 Caring Hands Award.

Congratulations, Brandy! Thank you for all you do for our residents.
