surprisingly curious history of corruption, vice, and outright naughtiness. Join local historian and sin expert Greg Hand for a tour of the Queen City's debauched yesteryears, as revealed through the commission of the 7 Deadly Sins: Gluttony, Greed, Sloth, Wrath, Envy, Pride and, of course, Lust – 'Sin'cinnati excelled at each and every one.

| 22 | Tuesday   | 3:30  | Book Discussion Group will meet in the Lee Library to discuss the book Theo of Golden by Allen Levi. One spring morning, a stranger named Theo arrives in the small Southern city of Golden. He doesn't explain much about where he came from or why he's there—but when he visits the local coffeehouse, where pencil portraits of the people of Golden hang on the walls, he begins purchasing them, one at a time, and giving each portrait to the person depicted. In exchange, he asks only for the person's story. And so portrait by portrait, person by person, | secrets are revealed, regrets are shared, and ordinary lives are profoundly altered. A story of giving and receiving, of seeing and being seen, Theo of Golden is an unforgettable novel about the power of generosity, the importance of connection, and the quiet miracles that happen when we choose kindness and wonder. Books are available in the Victoria Lobby on the bookshelf.

| 29 | Tuesday   | 2:30  | Please welcome Livia Graf, a PHD Student at the University of Cincinnati Classics Department. The UC classics department has an outreach lecture program and today we will hear about ancient stories from the stars. Human curiosity about the stars has existed for a very long time. The era of space exploration--the race to the Moon, sci-fi series, and the search for life on Mars--in fact, started millennia ago with the attentive observation of the heavenly bodies. Many stories from Greek Mythology deal with the existence of constellations which frequently memorialize heroes, heroines, and creatures in the sky. In this presentation we will discuss some of these stories, learn about the Zodiac constellations and the movements of the stars, and explore how the setting and rising of some stars was essential to the daily lives of the Ancient Greeks, from farming to sea voyages. |
